MRS. IRIS COOKE

Dedication

Because you have given unselfishly
Of your time and effort
To instill in us the desire for
And appreciation of
The knowledge that can be obtained from books;

Because you have introduced us to
One of the components of a fuller life—
The pathway to Wisdom—through reading;

Because of your devotion to us
And to your work,
We, the Senior Class,
Dedicate the 1965 Skewarkee
To you—

Mrs. Iris Cooke

Guidepost

Four short years ago, we as freshmen began our journey down the road towards graduation. Although that same path had been traveled by those who came before, it held for us a new and different adventure with every passing scene. It was not an easy road to follow, for often there were obstacles blocking the way. But now we are nearing the road's end and look back to find our footprints the only monument to our having traveled there.

Our last miles we trod with an air of sadness, for we realize that the paths we walked together will become separate and different now.

With these thoughts, we, the Senior Class of 1965, present in this SKEWARKEE, the memory of our last year as we leave it behind and look hopefully at the "Miles to Go."

"Nature's first green is gold,
Her hardest hue to hold.
Her early leaf's a flower;
But only so an hour.

Then leaf subsides to leaf.
So Eden sank to grief,
So dawn goes down to day
Nothing gold can stay."

Administration and Faculty

From eight until four, and often thereafter, a great fleet of advisors is "on call" to eager young minds five days a week. It is from this group that the students of Williamston High School seek and find answers to some of their problems. From the crucial world situation to a dangling participle, from a twisted ankle to a misplaced zipper, from the theories of atomic energy to the misunderstanding of a rule in French or Spanish grammar—the questions pour from one advisor to another. Each question represents a real willingness to comprehend the subject matter by the student; and each answer, carefully weighed by the advisor exemplifies the strength and guidance that characterize a teacher.

What better source can there be in a young person's world than his teacher to exemplify for him what maturity, leadership, and integrity really are? Who can better set the student on the path that leads to honesty and resolution than the one who commands his respect and acquaints him with knowledge?

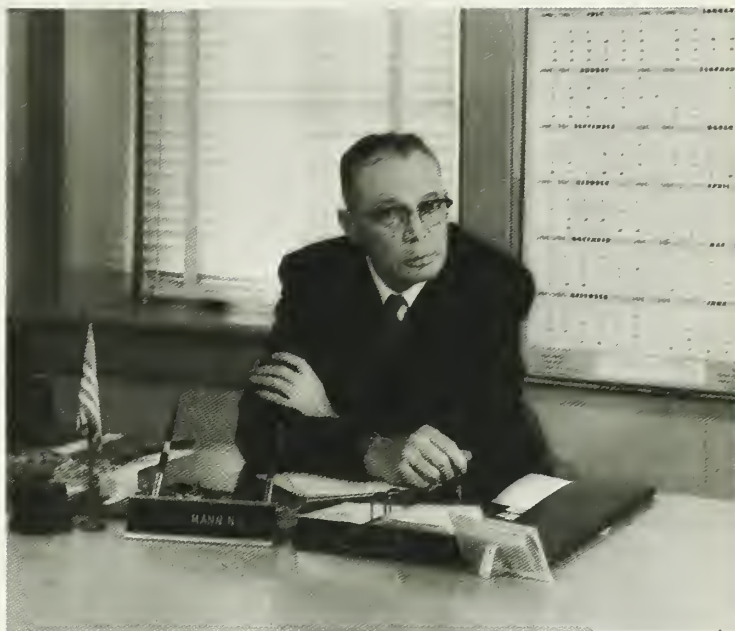

Thus, to the faculty and administration of his high school go our deepest expressions of appreciation. We give our thanks, our affection, and our eternal gratitude to you who first made us aware of the fascinating world that lies just around the bend.

"We couldn't find any boys!"

But I have promises to keep . . .

"Sally! Really!"

"Where ya'll goin'?"

"Je suis le Pierre."

Push'em back, push'em back, way back!

And miles to go before I sleep . . .

Seconds anyone?

You can tell a sophomore...but you can't tell him much.

A black and white photograph of a man in a dark suit and glasses, seen from behind, walking away on a path through a dense forest. The path is covered in leaves and branches, and the trees are tall and thin, creating a canopy overhead. The lighting is soft, with some brighter areas where sunlight hits the ground or leaves.

And miles to go before I sleep.

Three miles to go...

"What is a freshman?" is to ask "What is a high school?"; and, just as a school is more than four walls and a roof, so is a freshman more than one mere dot in a myriad of faces. Thus, the four highschool years constitute the beginning of a teenager's march toward maturity; consequently, the freshman year may be described as fun, frolic, fright, and frustration.

When the upperclassmen feel the additional burden of college entrance tests along with their regular work, it is the freshmen who enter dewey-eyed and light-hearted to add levity to the situation and to radiate the freshness of their youth.

Certainly, a freshman is a novice, but everyone and everything must have its beginning. And without freshmen, a high school would certainly lose much of its vivacity and its warmth.

Two miles to go...

After one year's journey, the Class of '67 gains some quality of security. With self-reliance they push ahead, passing milestones upon which is carved such scenes as the annual Valentine Dance, Homecoming Queen, increasingly difficult schoolwork, and the anticipation of the year to come.

As Sophomores, they progress more rapidly as they gain a sense of sedateness, acquired only through experience. They travel on, encountering as they go such experiences that can only add depth to their characters and broaden a growing maturity.

The signpost points them straight ahead; all signals reading "go!"

Just one mile more...

Perhaps the first year of being an upperclassman holds the greatest expectations, because a junior is actually much more than a mere member of the eleventh grade. It is the junior class that cheers the football team to victory each Friday night, only to return for clean-up the following morning, still jubilant from last night's victory. It is they who experience the ecstasy of preparing the most outstanding social event of the year, the Junior-Senior. And it is the Juniors who vow each year to become the finest senior class Williamston High School has ever known. It is from their class that an outstanding few are chosen by their scholastic records to act as marshals for the graduates; and it is they who first become seriously concerned with college entrance.

A junior is more than a jovial teenager. He is, most definitely, a journeyman upon an unending path. His goal is to be just to all; his nature, to be joyful; and his contribution to his school lies in his loyalty, his love, and the bond of attachment between the two which grows stronger with the years.

Finally, the Class of '65 approaches the last mile towards graduation; and as the end comes into view, we find our anticipation mounting. We look back and remember our innocent freshman faces staring up with awe as the high school assembly stood to honor upperclassmen. And suddenly, here we are, being honored just as those who preceded us.

As Seniors, we are characterized with sophistication. We are given superiority as we earn our privileges by right, and scholarship becomes upmost in our minds as we seriously speculate the necessity of education in our lives.

The final scenes pass us by in rapid succession now: class rings, invitations, calling cards, caps and gowns. The four short years that seemed infinity as freshmen are ended; the miles to go, gone. But as we look ahead, we are thankful for our past that can only add experience, knowledge, and wisdom to the future.

Class history

The gate was opened
When we were seven;
"We're off and running."
The first lap passed quickly,
With rhythm bands and reading circles.

The second lap—a little harder;
But fun was a special birthday party.

Third and fourth and fifth
Passed quickly.
The games, the plays, and the fractions—
We left them all behind.

With the sixth, seventh, and eighth
Came grown-up manners and
More homework.

Our trainers were different;
However, each taught us well.
The reins of discipline were
Tightening slowly.
The track—sometimes muddy,
Sometimes fair—beckoned us to
Bigger things and High School.

Nine laps and two tracks
Merging—Farm Life and Williamston.
Physical training helped us to
Endure the rigors of the final laps.

A Valentine Dance climaxed
The tenth.
Dissection of a frog made our journeying
A little more interesting.

"Fantasy Under the Sea,"
A Valentine Queen, a
Homecoming Queen, a Spotlight
Queen, a Monogram Sweetheart—
All helped draw the finish line
A little closer.

The Finish Line!
Class rings, a Skewarkee
To be proud of, College

Day made the final lap
Seem worth the effort and Hard work.

The Race is not yet
Complete—it is only
The first of many feats.

Carol Harris

Last Will and Testament

We, the Seniors of Williamston High School in this year of 1965, being of sound mind, feel that we possess qualities and possessions that the rising Seniors will need in their quest for a really successful Senior '66.

Patsy Andrews wills those good times in second period study hall to Mack Crisp.
Cherry Arnold leaves the good times at Community Christian Church to Janice Jenkins.
Betsy Baker bequeaths her back-seat driving ability and black hair to Joan Modlin.
Sandra Barber leaves her "love" for math to Mary Elizabeth Griffin.
Betsy Barnhill wills Highway 64 to the lucky person who wants it.
Sandy Barnhill bequeaths her femininity to Sharon Roberson?
Barbara Beacham leaves Shorthand II to Marie Tew.

And a Road Unfolded in a Yellow Wood . . .

Time, that old Gypsy-man
Who stayed for just one day,
Tremulously turned through a dusty book
And searched for your names with a labored look.

"And they?" he spoke;
"That took the paths thus travelled by;
Thus be the harvests they sowed
Since I pointed them down that yellow road.

"Oh, '65 was a vintage year—ne'er fear!
Their stars and signs were kind;
And like my friend, Rafferty the Poet,
I'll sing their song, if you've the time."

Then his voice gave rise to a note from the skies
And his eyes grew mystic and light;
His hand gave pause; his shoulders rose
And his words gave Truth to my sight:

*****

"Round that Medicine Bend
Doctors Velma Harrison and Sandy Barnhill went;
Not far behind were their capable workers—
Nurses Elizabeth Gurkin, Jo Ann Ward,
Diane Holliday, Kay Holliday,
Donna Thrower, Patsy Andrews, Cherry Arnold
And Jane Dunn.

"Striding to catch up were Lab Technicians
Jimmy Daniels, Judy Goddard, and dental assistant
Gail Cartwright to DDS Richard Cooke.

"Medicine also claimed Jackie Manning,
A physical therapist,
And Nora Leigh Roberson, anesthesiologist;
Medical technologists Cheryl Critcher
And Emily Ritter.

"The By-way of Business was a wider way;
There with their coffee-breaks went
Secretaries Ollie Richolson, Alma Freeman,
Gayle Scott, Faye Overman, Sheila Jernigan,
Cheryl Wynne, Nancy Crisp, Barbara Beacham
And Judy Jones.

"Business tycoon, Joseph Parvin,
Engineer Fred Hardison,
And Joe Spruill, technologist,
Followed with all due propriety.

"Teaching's dusty way
Was travelled by Mathematicians
J. D. Henderson, Sandra Barber,
Annette Lanier, Sally Crockett,
And Linda Gurkin:
Librarians Donna Speller, Claudia House;
English teachers Barbara Harris and Janie Nicholson;
Business teacher Nan Curtis;
Art Teachers Mary Summerlin, Brenda Melson
And Priscella Rogers;
Primary teacher Eleanor Wynne
And choreographer Mickie Griffin—
All travelled that narrow way.

"Their Uncle Sam marched with some:
Clarence Nicholson, Edward Casper,
With Admiral Travis Brown
And Colonel Dolly Harrell.

"The 'Straight and Narrow' way
Was DiAnna Cowan's, the Youth Worker;
And Bobby Long, DD,
Managed the Camp of Churches.

"The Farmers' Furrow was pursued by
Randy Hardison, Riley Roberson;
Able assisted by Billy Griffin and Roy Lindsey,
State Agriculturists.

"Professional men walked that way with purpose—
Highway patrolmen Jimmy Rogers, Tony Cowan, and Jimmy Mobley; Industrial artist Dewitt Hardison;
Garageman and auto craftsman David Craft;
Electrician Floyd Whitfield—
Ranger David Tyre; Craneman Mitchell Hopkins;
Game warden Roy Long and
J. C. White, Architect.

"The Road of Home Economy
Claimed Suzanne Jones, Janet Bridgen,
Beckie Griffin—Fashion Designers;
The famous fashion journalists Jean Heath
And Betsy Baker always got the "latest;"
And Judy Gurganus followed
The Path of Kindergartens:
Betsy Barnhill—Interior design.

"A wide road was the 'Real Politico'—
Dusty Shipley, Allen Hartman, Bill Courtney,
Haul Reddick and Judge Sammy Manning—
All aspiring and successful politicians
Walked that way.
Carol Harris, Correspondent to Washington,
Dogged their tracks for news.

"The Street of Cosmetology?
Evelyn Reardon, Barbara Martin,
Jill Edmondson, Frances Hudgins.

"The way for Scott White, Noah Bonds,
Butch Wallace, Jimmy Rogers, Johnny Lilley,
And Donald Mizelle— the Path of Positions.

"Down the Highway of Sports
Bounded Larry Speller,
The All-American basketball player.

"The glamorous Broadway of Drama
Claimed Ottis Coltrain . . .

"Speeding down the Wedding Way:
Janice Williams, Peggy Gurganus,
Donna Wojohn, Penni White,
And Sandra Biggs, "

It's quiet now —
They've all gone on to their different worlds
And separate spheres.

Time's still here —
He always is—and so am I—
Spirit of Williamston High.

Carol Harris

What reed? Hee! Hee!

Eeny, Meeny, Miny, Mo—hollow back's got to go!

Bottoms up!

Forceps, scalpel, Crisco!

Which one is Snow White?

CURRICULUM

Eight twenty-seven and the bell sounds. The hall begins to vibrate with footsteps, laughter, sighs, chatter. Lockers open; books out. It's morning, Monday through Friday type. Classes fill as students sigh, "Gee, Monday already? Please, Miss Privott, don't give us a pop test!" First period rolls by, then second period followed by third and fourth:

"Coach, if you make me do one more push-up, I'll collapse!"

"Mrs. Bunting, are resource themes due next week?"

"I scorched the shirt, Mrs. Harris."

"A-S-D-F-J-K-L-sem-"

"We're having hot dogs for lunch!"

"Est-ce que je comprends le français?"

"Mr. Butler, I know I played C#."

From eight twenty-seven to the three-thirty bell, curriculum is everyday a new experience, a challenge, and an ever growing adventure.

Features

Features is a special section of select people chosen by the student body and the faculty. Two small children are chosen by the Senior Class to serve as Mascots. Their duties occur at graduation time. Six members of the graduating class are selected by the faculty as Outstanding Seniors. They hold the honor of being the most distinctive Seniors. The Marshals are those eight students with the highest scholastic average after the completion of their Junior year. Commencement exercises require their duties as ushers. One of the important people around at Homecoming is, of course, our Homecoming Queen who is selected by the student body. Completing the grand finale are Senior Superlatives. Each student, chosen by his fellow classmates, excels in an individual field.

Fred HARDISON

"What is to come we know not. But we know
That which was was good; the best of all
to bear.
We are the masters of the days that were:
We win—We lose—We play the game.

Bill Courtney

"Time, you old gypsy man,
Will you not stay,
Put up your caravan
Just for one day?"

—Ralph Hodgson

Each year the faculty selects several seniors because of their academic and leadership ability. In addition to these depicted seniors, the following were nominated: Haul Reddick, Mickie Griffin, Joe Parvin, and Judy Gurganus.

Allen Hartman

"And I ask: For the depths,

homecoming

Homecoming is a time of joy and tears. Former students return and rejoice with one another. Hard work is broadcast by the toiling Juniors in preparation for the traditional game and climatic dance. Posters for each lovely candidate fill the school halls. A pep rally is conducted by the cheerleaders to give the boys a mighty push toward victory. But amid the happy chaos, Friday night finally arrives and a beautiful queen is crowned.

ACTIVITIES

Young people searching for ways in which to grow and communicate find their answers in each other—through clubs and other activities. They learn how to lead and be led; they work together on a give-and-take basis; and, as the years pass swiftly, they grow wiser—so as to help others in those same awkward shoes they once wore. They discover that it is only through their relationships with one another that they become older in mind. In the following pages you may see students working and playing—always striving to help others, their school, and themselves.

Student Government

The S.G.A. is a service organization dedicated to the highest standards of character and citizenship. Its members are elected by each home room and they form a representative unit of the student body. Its objective is to instill a desire for self-direction and self-improvement. While promoting school spirit, providing a forum for discussion of topics affecting the student body, and acting as a precedent in initiating new ideas, it fulfills its primary purpose: that of maintaining co-operation and understanding between the faculty and student.

National Honor Society

The National Honor Society is a national scholastic organization for high school students. It is an organization for the betterment of the school and community, and the enrichment of the character of each individual member.

Far from the belief of many students is the fact that one is not asked to be a member solely because of scholastic ability. Character, scholarship, leadership and service constitute the basis on which a member is chosen.

It is the belief of the society that through one's personal efforts toward becoming a well-rounded individual, the member will do his share in shaping the world in which he will lead; or follow, giving of his highest ability at either station.

It's always an impressive ceremony.

"Faith of American Teachers"

GLADLY do I teach—for I believe in the personal worth and potential ability of every child and youth.

REVERENTLY do I teach—for the guidance of the young toward high ideals and great achievement is a sacred trust.

CONFIDENTLY do I teach—for professional and cultural studies enable me to meet the complex tasks of teaching.

PROUDLY do I teach—for the story of our nation and the history of mankind reflect the wholesome influence of many teachers.

HOPEFULLY do I teach—for the teaching profession is gaining in public esteem and education is advancing toward new and challenging opportunities.

As the marsh-hen secretly builds on the watery sod,
Behold I will build me a nest on the greatness of God:
I will fly in the greatness of God as the marsh-hen flies
In the freedom that fills all the space 'twixt the marsh
and the skies:

By so many roots as the marsh-grass sends in the sod
I will heartily lay me a-hold on the greatness of God:
Oh, like to the greatness of God is the greatness within
The range of the marshes, the liberal marshes of Glynn.

Business Staff Members

As tangible representative of Williamston High School, the Green Wave Spotlight Editorial Staff promotes opportunities in journalistic writing, good relations between school and community, and an informative publication written for and by the students. Experience in news and feature writing and paper lay-out are offered to encourage interest in the field of journalism.

The Business Staff of the Green Wave Spotlight solicits ads from the Williamston merchants at the beginning of the year and thereafter manages the financial concerns of the paper. Through circulation and soliciting, the staff has opportunities to promote good relation between the school and the business firms. In appreciation for their patronage to the school paper, the businesses also receive issues of the Green Wave Spotlight.

Green Masquers

The Green Masquers is the dramatic Society of Williamston High School. The main purpose of the club is to stimulate an interest in the dramatic arts.

The Green Masquers usually sponsors two plays a year. Much work and preparation goes into each performance.

The actors must spend countless hours practicing and memorizing lines; but, the actors aren't the only ones who work hard—many must work behind the scenes. There are directors, who see that everything goes smoothly; also prompters and stage managers. Others who perform their duties backstage are the prompt manager, the ticket chairman, publicity chairman, and many others.

The corporation of these student actors makes for a highly successful organization.

future farmers of america

The Future Farmers of America, or F.F.A. as it is commonly known, is the national organization of, by, and for boys taking vocational agriculture in public secondary schools.

The F.F.A. is an intra-curricular activity having its origin and root in a definite part of the school's curriculum—vocational agriculture. Among other things, members learn through active participation how to conduct and take part in a public meeting, to speak in public, to buy and sell cooperatively, to solve their own problems, to finance themselves, and to assume civil responsibility. The foundation upon which the Future Farmers of America organization is built includes leadership and character development, sportsmanship, cooperation, service, thrift, scholarship, improved agriculture, organized recreation, citizenship, and patriotism.

Athletics

Here at Williamston High School, physical training is that important balance of the general education program, and includes all the physical activities and courses of study connected with the students' health, safety, and recreation.

The purposes and aims are:

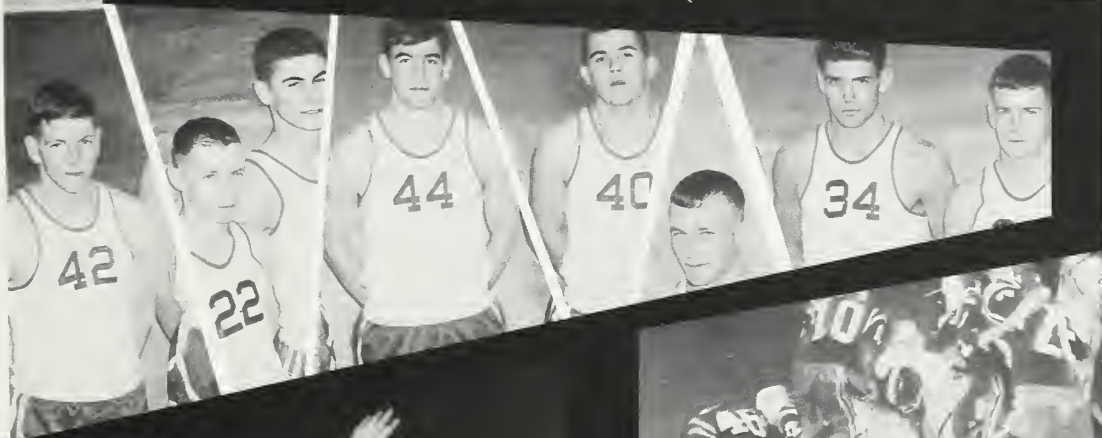

1. Physical conditioning
2. Cooperative attitude
3. Sense of accomplishment
4. Competitive spirit

In summation—"a sound mind in a sound body."

GOLF TEAM: Hank Crawford, Sammy Manning, J. D. Henderson, Jimmy Vann, Richard Cooke, and Sandy Barnhill.

Mr. Robert Frost

And were an epitaph to my story
I'd have a short one ready for my own.
I would have written of me on my stone:
I had a lover's quarrel with the world.

The Road Not Taken

Two roads diverged in a yellow wood,
And sorry I could not travel both
And be one traveler, long I stood
And looked down one as far as I could
To where it bent in the undergrowth;

Then took the other, as just as fair,
And having perhaps the better claim,
Because it was grassy and wanted wear;
Though as for that the passing there
Had worn them really about the same,

And both that morning equally lay
In leaves no step had trodden black.
Oh, I kept the first for another day!
Yet knowing how way leads on to way,
I doubted if I should ever come back.

I shall be telling this with a sigh
Somewhere ages and ages hence:
Two roads diverged in a wood, and I—
I took the one less traveled by,
And that has made all the difference.

—Robert Frost

The poems by Robert Frost are from COMPLETE POEMS OF ROBERT FROST. Copyright 1916, 1921, 1923, 1947 by Holt, Rinehart and Winston, Inc. Copyright 1944, 1951 by Robert Frost. Reprinted by permission of Holt, Rinehart and Winston, Inc.

"And I — I took the one less travelled by
And that has made all the difference."

Somewhere ages and ages from now
When we have turned the foregoing leaves
For the hundreth time,
We shall perhaps realize
That this little volume was a living dream—
A dream to the Temple of Time...
We fashioned something past recall—
As the passive poet would say—
Something everlasting, a thing eternal;
Its importance a signpost
Into our land of dreams.

It is enough.
Farewell; Good Luck; God Bless You:
To your classmates, friends,
To faculty and administration—
But not to memories and dreams!

"Say nevermore
That dreams are fragile things.
What else endures
Of all this broken world
Save only dreams."
